Person A: So, is there anything to say about traveling?

Person B: Yes, I have.

Person A: What's that?

Person A: Hmmm. I have a lot of experience with family tours and trips but haven't been with friends much, just a few times.

Person B: Really? laughs

Person A: Yeah, but with my father, I had a trip in a school bus during my 10th class for taking photos for a public examination.

Person B: Anything else?

Person A: Hmmm. After college, I was with my friends in a hotel, then attended 2-3 marriage functions without my parents, that's it, nothing more.

Person B: Surprising!

Person A: Might be, but I really enjoy traveling with my family. We four have the best trips ever.

Person B: Do you miss going out with friends or hanging out?

Person A: Not really. I haven't thought much about being with friends or others because I can't handle it for long, except with my family. I can't be as comfortable, but I expected that. After all, it's not possible, right?

Person B: Ah, no bothers. You seem better off together with your family 👍😊
